THE THIRD BIG DISASTER

Another Boiler Let Go in a Pittsburg Steel Plant This Morning.

The Dead Will Number Seven—Third In the Past Seventy-Two Hours.

DEAD NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE IN ALL

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—The third awful disaster in seventy-two hours occurred here this morning, when the big boiler at the Sulger's Steel plant exploded, fatally scalding seven men. The disaster came without warning, and created great excitement. The plant was damaged several thousand dollars, but the exact loss cannot at present be determined.

Yesterday the boilers at the Black Diamond Steel works exploded, killing half a dozen and wounding a dozen or more.

From what can be learned the four boilers exploded at one time, red-hot, and fell to a heap of twisted iron. There is not a straight piece of iron or steel left in the entire building. Even the bolts in the beams and stringers are twisted like screw nails.

The mill and sixty men on each turn and it is thought that almost one hundred and twenty men, both crews, were in the plant at the time of the explosion.

The No. 3 ten inch mill was a big iron-clad structure, built on a steel frame. One of the boilers went clean through the Park Brothers' mill and crashed into the McNeil plant almost completely demolishing it.

Just what the extent of the loss will be to the Park Bros. company and the McNeil is not known, but it is variously estimated from $25,000 to $100,000.

The other disaster was the explosion of the Boho furnace. Alexander Clydesdale, the watchman, is dead, swelling the list of this disaster of 11, with two fatally injured, dying in the hospital.

CLASH EXPECTED.

PEOPLE INDIGNANT AT THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 21.—A serious clash of armed men is threatened at Cold Spring, Campbell county, Ky., a few miles south of Newport, over the question of taking care of jail prisoners who have the smallpox.

The county board of health ordered the inmates of the new infirmary at Cold Spring removed to a hospital, and the smallpox prisoners taken from the jail to the infirmary.

When this became known bells were rung at Cold Spring and a citizens' meeting was held and under the leadership of Judge Brown armed men were sworn in and formed along the pike to prevent carrying out the orders of the board of health.

Meantime an injunction was obtained from Judge Hodge, and the sheriff began organizing an armed force to carry out the order of the board of health.

NEW SECRETARY.

MASSACHUSETTS MAN SLATED FOR SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 21.—Gov. Crane of Massachusetts will in all probability accept the secretaryship of the treasury in President Roosevelt's cabinet. He is one of the ablest and most widely known men in the east.

TO MARRY A RED INDIAN.

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Dec. 21.—Miss Susie Bates, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mollie Bates, of this place, left on the midnight train for Cincinnati, where she will meet and be married to Edgar Richard a Tuscarora Indian of Niagara Falls.

Rickard was educated at Carlisle, Pa. He became acquainted with Miss Bates here a few months since while working in a printing office.

KENTUCKY'S OLDEST JOURNALIST DEAD

Col. John C. Noble Dies Suddenly at His Home on North Ninth Street.

He Arose and Dressed, and Suddenly Collapsed—Was 86 Years Old December 4th.

THE FUNERAL TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Colonel John C. Noble, the veteran newspaper man, and one of the best known political writers of Kentucky, died this morning very suddenly at his home, 810 North Ninth street, from general debility, after a brief illness.

The news of his death came as a great surprise. Only a few days ago Colonel Noble celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday, and appeared to be in the best of health.

Shortly afterward he became ill, but had been improving and was not believed to be in any danger. This morning he arose and dressed, and was about to take a dose of medicine. He walked over to prepare it, and suddenly, without warning, collapsed. Going to the bed, in about two minutes he was dead. Disposition was calm and peaceful, but the demise of this well known and popular man came as a great shock to his hundreds of friends throughout the city, who thought his illness was only temporary, and not in any wise dangerous.

Colonel Noble was born Dec. 4th, 1815, at Lexington, Ky., and was son of Elijah Noble, who was of Celtic descent, and was a lineal descendant of the Colonel Noble who was in Cromwell's "Ironside Regiment," and one of the commission that sat in judgment on Charles I. and voted for his death.

Mr. Elijah Noble early in life was a prominent citizen of Lexington, and owned half a dozen stores at one time in Central Kentucky. He was crippled financially by the second war with Great Britain, and never was able to recoup his fortunes.

Colonel John C. Noble was educated in Lexington, and became very prominent in the higher branches of education, his tutor being Charles O'Hara, of the Transylvania University.

He served an apprenticeship as a printer and resumed his literary studies, and became a powerful writer and a well informed man on all literary and political subjects.

He studied law under Chancellor Caleb Logan, at Louisville, but never practiced the profession.

He was an enthusiastic Jeffersonian Democrat, and this led him into political life, and he became an editor.

Twice he was a candidate for office, once for the legislature from Louisville, where he received the Whig majority to 200, and during the war was a candidate for Congress in the first district, being defeated by Hon. W. H. Mather.

He enlisted during the threatened war between the United States and Mexico, but did not see service. In 1861 he joined the Confederate army, and served four years. He was appointed regimental quartermaster with the rank of Captain, but subsequently was placed on the staff of General Abe Lincoln, with the rank of Major.

Colonel Noble was always a forceful writer, and a power in politics, and in later years was a Populist, and a well known contributor to the press under the non de plume, "Nacon." He established the Paducah Herald in 1857, and published it until the war. After the war he operated a printing office here.

He resided for years at "Villa Calhoun" in Arcadia, but a few years ago moved to the city, where he had since resided. He was known as a "Nestor of the Press," and his writings had considerable influence. He was at one time in late years a regular contributor to the Kentucky Populist, published by Jo A. Parker, and his mental vigor never deserted him to the day of his death.

Col. Noble was liked by all who knew him, and in his death Paducah

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Bank clearings this week—$182,316. Same time last year—$356,000. Decrease—$173,684.

The bank clearings for the week show a reflection of the business of the week. The inclement weather has had its effect here, as in most everything else. Money is in good demand everywhere, as usual at this season of the year. Local bank earnings are running higher than for any previous year. The banks make their semi-annual statements next week, and from indications the reports will show the best in their career.

The extreme cold weather has not thrown a damper on the local wholesale world as it might have done.

The freeze has made business good for the feed merchants as the farmers have not been able to come to town and bring feed as they have been doing. The commission feed men are all buying hay as the price will shortly go up and make a good market for their stock.

Business with the wholesale grocery merchants is about the same. There has not been so much foreign trade worked this week as the snow and irregularity of the trains made it very inconvenient for the traveling salesmen and the local houses did little business out of the city this week. The wholesale whiskey men are still holding an increasing trade and are working overtime to fill the orders.

The coal merchants are doing the business of the year and the orders come in so fast that it is nearly impossible to fill them in time. The teamsters are hauling more coal than anything and every vehicle that can be brought into service is engaged to haul coal. It is reported that on account of the freeze out of the water tanks along the railroad the coal trains are unable to run on schedule time. The I. C. is working all hands to accommodate the traffic and all the trains are being run as near on schedule time as possible.

Last Saturday the local freight south did not go out for the first time this season on account of the weather. The accident to the cradle at the local incline also made some little delay to the north freights and passengers but the merchants were inconvenienced little by the accident and got their goods from the north via Fulton.

The retail merchants report little increase in business during the past week on account of the snow and extreme cold weather. Next week the Christmas shoppers will be out in force despite the weather and a rush is expected.

IT IS NOW ALL OVER

Secretary Long Approves the Findings in the Schley Court of Inquiry.

He Agrees That There is no Further Proceedings in the Case, and This Ends It.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Secretary Long this morning approved the majority findings in the Schley court of inquiry. He also approves the recommendation that there be no further proceedings in the case.

This decision followed the report of Judge Advocate Lemley and Solicitor Haona, which was submitted yesterday afternoon, and was upon the bill of objections filed by Admiral Schley, through his counsel, to the findings of the Schley court of inquiry. In substance, the report is an argument supplementary to the argument made by the writers before the court of inquiry. The principal points are an insistence upon their contention that the first report is the unanimous report of the court of inquiry; that the court was justified in rejecting Admiral Schley's evidence by the number of witnesses who took issue with him, and that there is no sufficient reason for a reopening of the case as required by Admiral Schley.

It was the general belief that Secretary Long's action was the only reasonable one that could have been taken.

A GREAT CROWD GOING

All Should Attend the Benefit Tomorrow Afternoon at the Kentucky

An Elegant Program Prepared—The Admission is Only Fifty Cents.

The benefit to be given tomorrow afternoon at The Kentucky for the stranded members of the "Shadows of Sin" company promises to draw one of the largest crowds of the season. A program that was never excelled in Paducah has been prepared. The proceeds are to go to the unfortunate members of the "Shadows of Sin" company, who have been stranded here for the past week, without the means to get out of the city.

The professional people in the city have responded liberally to the benefit, and will give one of the best performances ever witnessed in the city. In the cast will be the best specialists in the "Two Little Vagrants" company, the Marry Comedy company and the "Shadows of Sin" company. There will be no reserved seats, and the opera house will be thoroughly heated. Performance begins at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Bell Given, the timekeeper in the master mechanic's office, will leave this afternoon for Henderson to visit friends and relatives Sunday.

THE SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The Teachers Allowed Their Salaries By the Trustees Last Evening.

Treasurer Terrell Makes His Fiscal Report—Superintendent Hatfield's Report.

ONE SESSION DID NOT COME UP

All the members of the board of education attended the called meeting last night. Superintendent Hatfield made his regular report, which showed that the cold weather had reduced the attendance to one-fourth in the first grades, one-third in the second grades, one-half to three-fourths in the fourth and fifth grades, and from three-fourths to seven-eighths in all the other classes. At the Washington building only twelve of the first grade pupils appeared day before yesterday, with eleven the day before that, while the B. O. S. pupils at the Franklin building yesterday included seven scholars, notwithstanding the enrollment is about fifty-five. Taken as a whole, the schools in an entirety have been attended by only about seventy-five per cent of the children. The superintendent reported the case of smallpox that was removed from the first grade at the Jefferson building, and which resulted in all the pupils not heretofore properly vaccinated being put through the hands of the city physician, who applied the virus to thirty at the Jefferson building and the same number at the Washington building. The grade from which the afflicted child was removed was dismissed from Thursday to the following Monday, in order that the room could be thoroughly fumigated and all possible germs killed. Superintendent Hatfield stated that all the pupils either living in the same house or district where scarlet fever prevailed were excluded from the schools, and not allowed to return until the authorities were completely satisfied there existed no further danger. Commenting upon the subject the superintendent said he had done all in his power, and had enlisted the board of health's assistance, but not much could be done by them, on account of the existing friction between that body and the council, which failed to work harmoniously, greatly to the detriment of the health of not only school attendants but everybody at large.

President Leake stated that the board should do all in its power to promote harmony between the council and the board of health. Trustee R. G. Terrell, on account of his long service as a member of the finance committee and treasurer of the board, asked to be relieved from further service, but after a discussion, in which many compliments were paid him, President Leake declined to accept the resignation. The regular salaries were allowed, and amounted to $2,847.57, and miscellaneous bills amounting to $74.88 were also allowed. The final report of Treasurer Terrell showed that since last report he had received $5,781.33, and expended $4,189.04, leaving a balance of $1,592.29.

Trustee Wells stated that the suit of Architect B. B. Davis against the board would, without fail be tried at the next term of circuit court, beginning in January.

The salary of the janitor at Langstaff building was increased from $8 to $10 a month.

The board decided to dismiss the schools Monday afternoon, Dec. 23rd, until January 2nd.

The question of one session for the schools during bad weather did not come up. It is understood that the district school committee will adopt the plan after the holidays, which it can do without action of the board.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Frank Levin took place yesterday afternoon at Oak Grove, services conducted at the residence. The pall bearers were: Ed Boudy, Charles Vinson, Henry Gallman, Abe Franke, Tom Orr and W. R. Jones.

SPRIGGS MOTION WAS OVERRULED

Judge Husbands Declined to Discharge on Technicality.

Appeal Taken—The Prisoners Sentenced This Morning—Grand Jury Adjourned This Afternoon.

NEWS IN THE OTHER COURTS

2 CIRCUIT COURT.

The most important thing done in circuit court, which adjourned today, was the overruling of the motion in the James Spriggs murder case.

Attorneys Hendricks and Miller, attorneys of the defendant, Thursday filed a motion in the court to have the defendant James Spriggs, discharged from custody and the verdict of the jury set aside on a technicality. The indictment charged murder and the verdict returned by the jury was twenty-one years for manslaughter, but did not state if voluntary or involuntary. This is the point the attorneys wished to win on, and the judge this morning overruled the motion. Spriggs then prayed an appeal to the court of appeals, which was granted, but he will be taken to the penitentiary and kept there, unless the court of appeals acts in his favor.

The coal stealing petty larceny case against Naldy Brinner was dismissed.

In the case of F. G. Randolph, administrator, against John W. Faxon and others, G. P. Husbands, M. C., produced a deed to W. W. Oliver.

The following accounts or claims were allowed: I. H. Rogers, $93.80; D. L. Sanders, $234.

All the prisoners convicted in the past term of court were brought before the court and sentenced. There are only two white ones, Wilkins and Rhodes, who received the heaviest sentences, the former seven and the other five, for grand larceny and horse stealing, respectively.

A new trial has been made by the Illinois Central in the case in which it was fined $300 a few days ago for not keeping the crossing at Calvert City in good repair.

The number of convictions in this term smaller than usual, being thirteen, twelve men and one woman.

FISCAL COURT.

After the allowance of several natural bills of the county, fiscal court adjourned for good, and no more will the present magistrates meet to hold fiscal court. Court held session two days only, and the business was rushed through as rapidly as possible. There have been comparatively few pauper applicants to the county considering the weather. It seems that the city is worse ridden with the unfortunate than the county. There is a certain class of paupers who make regular trips to the county judge, but they have about been found out, and will have to adopt some other "game" for support.

COUNTY COURT.

Deputy Jailor Tom Everts has been placed in charge of the estate of Agnes Ventch, the woman adjudged insane and sent to the asylum.

The Holcomb-Lobb Tie company filed records of their trademark, a blue spot.

POLICE COURT.

The case against Sam Everts, Will Haffey and Ernest Roark, charged with maliciously outting a negro, was again continued, the negro being unable to appear.

A breach of the peace case against Lillie Bulger, was continued. John Pritchard was fined $1 and costs for a plain drunk.

The breach of the peace against Ed Farris and Perry Bryant, was tried and Bryant fined $3 and costs and Farris dismissed.

Jim Taylor was fined $1 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

Superintendent R. U. Wallace, Roadmaster Pat Galvin, Trainmaster T. A. Banks and Supervisor W. C. Waggoner were in the city last night again. Mr. Banks returned to Princeton this morning.

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD

This week in the theatre is always considered the worst in the entire season, and while the weather has been unprecedented all week still the Murray Comedy company has done a fair business at The Kentucky and has amply repaid those who have ventured out. They close their week's engagement tonight by presenting "Reaping the Whirlwind."

"Two Little Vagrants," the big scenic drama which will be presented at The Kentucky Christmas matinee and night is said to have some remarkably strong situations. In the first act there are two pictures that are painted in strong dramatic colors to furnish the ground work for the subsequent scene. The next two acts are filled mainly with the children, Fan-Fan and Claude, which are so natural and so tender and so brave, that the two acts are an idyl which might easily serve as a play without the preceding or succeeding acts. A uniformity of dramatic power and skill is apparent from the first scene to the last. To sum it all up, it is pre-eminently natural. The realistic features of the play are enhanced by admirable scenic effects. The company which delineates the character in the drama includes Miss Nora Harrison as Fan-Fan, Katherine Vincent, Ethel Brandon, Arthur Cogliner, Del La Barre, James Bann, C. Holden. Prominent among the new members of the company are Ray Scott, who has been specially engaged to play Claude, Jessie Lansing, Alice Ethel Hamilton and Frank Hilton. Pleasing Brown George R. Harcourt.

The big benefit for the stranded theatrical people tomorrow afternoon at the Kentucky will be one of the treats of the season. Over fifty members of the profession will take part. Florodora with nearly one hundred people and its "Pretty Maiden" double sextette will positively be seen here January 21 as Manager English has finally closed contract for same.

The Richmond Dispatch in speaking of Mr. Howard Kyle and company who will present "Nathan Hale" at The Kentucky Saturday afternoon and night, December 28, says: "The reception accorded Mr. Howard Kyle last night must have been most gratifying to the actor, for not only was it a capital one, but it was even enthusiastic. There were certain calls at the end of both the second and the third acts and at the conclusion of the latter the audience would not let Mr. Kyle off until he had made a 'speech,' which the actor did in a most happy manner."

Steamer Lost and Several Drowned

The Boat Broken In Two and is a Total Loss—Eight Drowned.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 21.—The steamer Kanawha Belle went over the dam, Look No. 3 at Paint Creek on her down trip, and eight deckhands were drowned. All the passengers were rescued, but one of them, Len Martin, died from the shock after being rescued, and taken aboard the Calvert. His home was at Alden City.

The dead are: Len Martin, passenger; Sam Hawkins, Sam Fields, Dave Anderson, Barney Lipkin, Lou Shannon, Charles Viney and two other deckhands, names unknown.

The boat was broken in two, and is reported to be a total loss. The tiller ropes failed to work, and the boat became unmanageable and drifted over the dam. It was owned by Captain E.
O. Calvert, who also owns the steamer Calvert. The latter boat rescued the passengers and other members of the crew.

The Belle was a passenger packet plying between this city and Montgomery, and under the name of Sonoma was burned to the water's edge some years ago, being afterwards rebuilt as the Kanawha Belle.

FAITH HOME.

It Continues to Agitate the Members of St. Louis Health Board.

Some of the Things Found There By Officers Who Made the Inspection.

The "Faith Home," in St. Louis, which is run by Mrs. Walton and her daughter, Mrs. Coker-Miller, both formerly of Paducah, continue to be the subject of much discussion in St.
Louis. A dispatch from there says:
"Special agents of the health department inspected the Faith Home at 911 North Garrison avenue, conducted by Mrs. Mary S. Walton and Mrs. Maude Coker-Miller. As a result of their investigation, Dr. Starkloff, health commissioner, has decided to issue summons for the two women to appear before the board of health and show why their institution should not be condemned."

"The two agents who made the investigation of the 'home,' where two little children have recently died of malignant diseases, unattended and without medical assistance, found a terrible state of affairs, they report.
In the nine rooms of the house there were small fires in only three. The others were cold and cheerless. Sick children were in cold rooms, without sufficient clothing, food, medicine or nurses."

"Fifty-one children were found in the home, and all the food to be discovered was a half barrel of stale bread. Twenty-two boys and girls were found living in one cold, cheerless, and filthy room. The place will probably be suppressed."

DEATH AT BOAZ.

MR. D. A. HOUSEMAN, A PROM-INENT MAN, IS DEAD.

Mr. D. A. Houseman, of Boaz station, aged 75, one of the most prominent residents of the county, died last night at his home of pneumonia, after an illness of several days.

Mr. Houseman was a prominent man, and well known here. He leaves seven children, three of them residing in Paducah. The following are the names of his children: Messrs. T. R., C. P., F. M.
Houseman and Mrs. E. C. Park, and three small children. Messrs. T. R. and C. P. Houseman and Mrs. Park are residents of the city, and the other children reside with him at Boaz.
Mr. H. G. Park, his grandson, returned from Boaz this morning to attend his funeral. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at his home.

The American Express Company Will Remember Its Employees.

Each One is to Receive Ten Dollars This Year From the Company.

Route Agent C. A. Abbott of the American Express company has received instructions from headquarters to forward the name of every employee in his district who has been employed by the company for over a year.

The reason of this is that every one of the ten thousand employees of the American Express company in the United States will be informed by President James C. Farago that the company will make him a Christmas present of ten dollars. This neces-itates the taking of about $100,000 from the yearly profits of the company.

"Every person in the company's employ," said W. H. Long, the agent of the main office, yesterday, "from the small boy who pastes labels on the boxes to the highest priced general and division manager, will receive his ten dollars. Last Christmas the company gave each man five dollars. This year it was decided to double it."

"As one of the four thousand employees in New York City, I think I can safely say that no corporation engaged in the forwarding business ever made a better investment. Not alone does the company pay its men a good compensation, but this Christmas gift evidences its appreciation of our efforts. The present goes only to those who have been in the company's employ for one year or more."

"The amount of money it will require may be better appreciated by the public when I say that in this office, at 65 Broadway, alone, there are more than one thousand employees."

The money will be distributed on December 24.

CLOSE TONIGHT.

The Murray Comedy company will this evening close a week's engagement with "Reaping the Whirlwind," which will be presented in Paducah for the first time. Last evening there was another small but appreciative crowd, but the play was greatly enjoyed, and was well produced. The company has suffered a great deal on account of the cold weather, all the audiences being small. This evening the company closes, but the members will take part in the benefit performance at The Kentucky tomorrow afternoon.

A POSSET FOR YULE.

Masters, I would blend a posset
For the crispy tide of Yule;
And the truth is—I'll not gloss it—
That I shall not work by rule.
Of the finest of elixirs
Shall be stirred the tempting brew
And the golden draught I mix, sirs,
It shall not be capped with rue!

First, then, from a beaker, brimming
Shall the wine of Love be poured;
Next a cup be added, swimming
With the cordial Hope doth hoard;
Faith shall dip, for soul-elation,
From a juice that does not cloy;
And the final distillation
Shall be from the grapes of Joy

Masters, every one a chalice!
And, ere night be crowned with sleep,
Melancholy moods and malice,
Let each quaffer drown them deep!
In the veins of those that toast it,
Room they far, or dwell they near,
May the rich blood of the posset
Rale throughout the speeding year!

APROPOS OF SOCIETY.

What has Society been doing this week? Well, you will seek her in vain if you go to the accustomed haunts, for pleasure's halls are closed and darkened, and the ranks of elation are deserted, but go to the stores and on the streets and you will meet her swathed in furs, with convenient skirts just clearing the snow-covered streets, leaving the arms free to clasp the multicolored packages that ordinarily would be objectionable—but every one wants bundles now—all wearing the bit of holly, cheery insignia of the Christmas time and with faces absorbed yet happy; they are all on shopping bent. Not a word can phase the Christmas shopper—Time, Tide—and Christmas wait for no man, and certainly not for woman who is prone to be more impetuous. Perhaps, the unexpected opportunities of sleighing and skating have tempted Society to indulge some this week, for these, too, are of an evanescent quality that might not wait—even if urgent—but beside that and maybe some tiny informal that is considered quite without the society reporter's ken, there has been absolutely nothing going on—except the Kentucky, of course, which is somewhat akin to perpetual motion, and the strange part of it is that no one seems to mind it to the least. Usually you would encounter faces attuned to woe with such a state of affairs prevailing, but now, the gayest debutante of them all will meet your inquiry of "what is doing in a social way?" with the most indifferent "nothing at all," and then turn with a far-away look to her contemplation of dainty bric-a-brac, presently in ask with ardent interest, "How do you think this would do for so-and-so?" Perhaps "the explosive power of a new affection," best accounts for Society's attitude towards her usual pleasure this week, for Christmas though an "old, old story," is ever a new one to all, and comes with delightful freshness each year to the social shopper. You are in as much of a whirl as if you were in the height of a Washington season, you meet all of your friends but no one has time to linger for more than a word or two. Some one once said, when foisted by the holiday shopping through "It was lucky that the first Christmas carol, 'Gloria in Excelsis Deo,' was sung to the peace-loving Stephen on the quiet Judean hills, instead of here in this department store whirl. Nothing short of a brass band with trumpets could be heard, and nobody would have time to stop and listen even if it could." And it would seem to a man from Mars doubtless that we are the most selfish, self-centered, self-engrossed set of people in the world, yet how surprised he would be if he knew that each shopper is at present bent on the most "selfless" work of the entire year. Surface judgment is somewhat prone to error. It would be good if one could really be a wise woman and finish everything off so as to have the few days before to be an onlooker in the stores. Truly, human nature is an interesting study, but we should judge no truer than the Man from Mars, perhaps. Soon the shopping will be done, and then the writing of cards, the tying up of packages, and those numberless little things that take so much time but for which we make no allowance in portioning the days before Christmas, will begin, and then everything will be ready for the modern Twentieth Century Santa Claus to take in hand and make an especial delivery.

The coming week promises to make up for the quietude of this. Never has there been as much and so brilliant an array offered Society as through the Christmas and New Year's weeks. Verily, she is going to have the reward for her labor of love of this, and will revel in the charm of the whirl again. There will be all sorts and kinds of functions, and a wedding or two to celebrate the year-end.

A CHRISTMAS WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Susan Elvira Humble of Lebanon, Ky., to Mr. William Harrison Salles of Danville, Ky., will take place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee Gregory, on North Ninth street. Rev. W. H. Pinkerton of the First Christian church will perform the ceremony.

Miss Humble is the niece of Mrs. Gregory, and has been spending the winter with her aunt. She is very charming and attractive, and has captured friends and hearts galore since she has been here, all of whom are regretting to lose her. Mr. Salles is a prominent young man of Central Kentucky, the owner of a fine old estate called "Elmwood," near Danville, which he lives on and manages.

Miss Hettie Irvine of Springfield, Ky., will be the maid of honor, and Miss Ella Hay of Danville and Miss Carrie Showers of Elizabethtown will be the bridesmaids. Miss Lillian Gregory of this city will be ring bearer. Dr. Sprague Cheek of Canadian, Texas, will be the best man. Mr. O. L. Gregory will give the bride away.

It will be a very charming scene, the bride and her maids being gowned in white. Only relatives and the most intimate friends will witness the ceremony, but immediately following it will be a large reception, to which all society has been bidden, which, also, celebrates the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory.

After the reception the bride and groom will leave on a bridal trip east, and will be at home at "Elmwood," Danville, after January 10th.

MARRIAGE OF MISS MCGILGATHERY AND REV. J. W. IRION.

Harris of Clinton, Ky., a brother-in-law of the groom, and Rev. H. B. Johnston, presiding elder of the Paducah district, will perform the ceremony.

Mr. James McGilgathery, a brother of the bride, Mr. Walton Ketchum of Vanderbilt University, Mr. Wells of Glass, Tenn., and Mr. B. J. Billings of the city, are the ushers. McSwain of Paris, Tenn., is the best man. Little Miss Marguerite Aden of Paris, will be the ring bearer. Mrs. S. H. Winstead, organist of Broadway, will play the wedding march.

Mr. Irion is the talented and popular pastor of the Danville street Methodist church, and is a rising young minister.

They will leave after the ceremony for St. Louis, and will be away about two weeks; on their return they will keep house on West Trimble street.

MUSICAL CLUB.

The Musical club met on Monday evening in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church, and all who were brave enough to face the rigor of the night, were rewarded for their valor by a most delightful evening. "Scandinavian Music" was the subject for discussion, and a most pleasant program was enjoyed. "Jenny Lind," the Swedish Nightingale, was delightfully portrayed in a paper by Mrs. Hubbard S. Walls. The study of the music of different countries as personified by the cloth this winter, is proving very interesting and inspiring sort of work.

At this meeting the club decided to give a charity concert some time after the holidays, the proceeds of which will be given to the Civic Federation to aid in their benevolent work. As some of the finest musical talent of the city is in this club, the concert will no doubt be a fine success and a social occasion as well, and will swell the charity fund by a goodly sum.

The club will meet Monday week in the lecture room of the Chamber Street Presbyterian church. "Russian music" will be discussed, and the program is under the leadership of Miss Brazelton and Mr. Chastaine.

A CHRISTMAS HOUSE PARTY.

The guests of Miss Emma Reed's house party will arrive on Monday, and will include Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wernken of Clarksville, Mrs. Anna Berryman of Lexington, Ky., and Mr. Hart of Clarksville. Mr. Lory of "The Furnace," who was to have been of the party, is unable to come, which is a matter of much regret.

This house party will be one of the charming occasions of Christmas week, and will be attended by much gaiety, as all are extremely popular in Paducah society. There will be several entertainments in their honor, an afternoon card party having already been announced. A boat trip to Cairo will, also, be one of the pleasant features. There are other entertainments yet not announced.

MARRIAGE OF A FORMER PADUCAHAN.

Mr. Morris Bernheim of Louisville and Miss Della Secheimer of Cincinnati will be married in Cincinnati on Monday evening. It will be a swell wedding, followed by a large reception at the St. Nicholas hotel, Cincinnati.

Mr. Bernheim is the second son of I. W. Bernheim and formerly resided in Paducah. He is a nephew of Mrs. Herman Wallerstein and Mrs. Jacob Wallerstein of the city, and is related to other prominent families, and has many friends beside in his old home to wish him well. His bride is a prominent and wealthy Cincinnati girl. They will go east on their bridal tour.

KENTUCKY CLUB OPENING.

The opening of the Kentucky club on Monday evening will be a social occasion of much interest. The club's elegant rooms in The Brinswick will be thrown open on that evening, and a number of guests, including ladies, have been invited. The evening will be spent in dancing, cards, billiards and pool, and a delightful banquet will be served at 12 o'clock.

The club now numbers thirty members, all prominent young society men. The membership is limited. Mr. Sanders Fowler is the president of the club, Mr. Cook Hinchman vice president and Mr. Joseph L. Friedman, Mr. Abram Well and Mr. Frank Rieke are the directors. With such notable hosts in charge, the event is certain to be one of the season's successes.

They were accompanied to Cairo by Mr. Chris Liebel, father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Perry, Mr. R. W. Perry of the city, and Messrs. J. Sid Hubbard, O. J. Winston and Tom Moore of Princeton, the groom's former home.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard left for a bridal trip to St. Louis and Chicago, and will make Paducah their home on return. Both are popular young people, and have many friends here.

THE RUDY RECEPTION.

The Christmas reception to be given by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rudy on Thursday evening from nine until twelve, will be one of the most charming events of the season. The Rudy home is famous for its artistic and unusual entertainments, and the invitations to this one, on red paper with a piece of holly tied with green ribbon to the red envelope, are so charmingly symbolic and effective that they have quite prepared society for something more than usually beautiful, as well as appropriate to the season.

He has been here since his graduation from the Louisville college of medicine and his many friends will regret to learn of his departure. Dr. Wilson had several fine offers in hospitals but refused them to take up a regular practice in his home place.

The I. C. round house presents a rather gloomy appearance at present.
It is filled with steam from the engines and piping and the employees can hardly see a hand before them.
The pipes in several of the engines that have been in for repairs are frozen and the wipers and machinists build fires all around the boiler and outside pipes to thaw them out before putting the engine to test. The fires are made with waste and several engines seemed idle this morning so completely were they surrounded with the burning waste. There has been trouble occasioned with the engines during the cold spell but less than was expected.

The grand jury reported this morning at noon and was finally discharged. The indictments reported are kept a secret, as the men indicted are not yet before the court. It is understood, however, that no sensational indictments were returned. In the Simpson malicious shooting case,
the bail was reduced to $300. Paoline
Wilson's bond was reduced to $100.

Don't fail to go to Sam
Gott's tonight for a fine lunch.

The first spelling book printed in this country was entitled "The American Spelling Book," by Noah Webster. It was issued in 1783, and for considerably more than half a century was the standard work used in all American schools.

STENOGRAPHIC REPORTS

Will Not Be Paid For By the County
Hereafter.

Magistrates Claim the Taxpayers Are Imposed on Continually.

There seems to be some little friction among the magistrates and other county officials in regard to the matter of the county standing the expense of a stenographic report of any defendant, unless it is clearly proven that the defendant is not able to pay for the same, and unless the report is considered an absolute necessity for an impartial trial of the case.

Yesterday the board at the meeting of fiscal court refused the bill placed against the county for the stenographic report in the Richards and Saw case, holding that if the defendants were able to pay a $275 attorney fee, for two different cases, that they were able to pay the stenographer for his work. It is also stated that the bill for the stenographer's work in the James Spriggs case will not be paid by the county, as Spriggs was able to pay a $1,000 attorney fee, and hence is able to pay the stenographer.
This afternoon the question was discussed by several attorneys and a well known magistrate, and they say that they are very much against the matter of allowance of the bill, and that they will certainly do all in their power to prevent the county paying it.

An Improved Milk Pail.

Many a pint of milk has been lost by a kick from the cow just as the task of milking her was about finished, and many a stray bit of dirt falls into the open pail if the farmer is not extremely careful in his labors. An Alabama man believes that the pail he has just designed will save the milk in case of an upset pail and also prevent the gathering of impurities. The top of the pail has a screw-threaded flange, which a receiving bowl is secured by a smaller flange. In the center of this bowl is a strainer, and below the strainer is an open frame in which is placed a loose cone corresponding in shape to the under side of the strainer.
As soon as the pail is tipped over the flow of the milk toward the strainer seals the cone and effectually closes the outlet until the pail is righted again.—

EFFORT TO BE MADE IN WILL

HAMILTON'S BEHALF

SOON.

Attorney Dave Cross, who represents Will Hamilton, indicted for the alleged murder of Jack Johnson, alias "Bad Eye Jack," will probably make a motion for bail before Judge "Hans" hands some time next week. Hamilton was held over in police court several days ago, and promptly indicted by the grand jury. As there was not time to try the case, it had to be continued over until April, and as the charge is murder, and not bailable, the only way to secure the release of the defendant is on a motion for bail, which would necessitate the evidence being heard, and may be made before the county judge; if the circuit judge is not in the city.

The exact time for hearing the case has not been decided.

PLAYS PREACHER.

JEFF WILKINS SEEMS TO BE A PRETTY GOOD PREACHER

Jeff Wilkins, the white man yesterday sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for stealing a horse belonging to Mr. E. Putrell, is said to be a good preacher. He takes his bible and preaches regular sermons from texts, and is said to know the scripture by heart.

When he was convicted yesterday he created considerable merriment among the other prisoners by his abuse of the local lawyers, saying that he could do better than any of them. Wilkins had just finished a term in the Illinois penitentiary when arrested on the horse stealing charge in Kentucky.

SAD CASE.

MAN CARRIED INTO COURT TO GET DIVORCE—WAS DE-SERVED.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 31.—A case that has no equal here ended this afternoon with the death of William Blockley, thirty-four years of age. On Tuesday he was carried into court dying of rapid consumption. He had sued for divorce, his wife having deserted him. He then adopted a friend, Harford Woods, fifty years old, that he might leave Wood his life insurance. He did this in gratitude for kindness shown after being left alone by the woman.

CUMBERLAND RIVER.

A SUB COMMITTEE MAY COME DOWN ON AN INSPECTION TOUR.

Washington, Dec. 31.—A subcommittee of the rivers and harbors committee may visit the Cumberland river, after hearings are completed by the committee on January 23. Representative Gaines of Tennessee has invited the members of the committee to make the trip as the guests of the Cumberland River Improvement association, and several of them have signified their willingness to accept.

MIDDLE-CLASS CULTURE.

Presentments Had Importance Among People Fifty Years Ago.

Fifty years ago people studied Daniel and the Apocrypha to ascertain the approach of the millennium, by which was meant, at least to the evangelical press to which I was brought up, not the eternal duration of human life, but the thousand years' reign of the just and the second advent. The usual, if not the only, objection then made to the immensity of the consummation of all things was that the loss of life must first be a disaster, and that the Jews must be restored to the Holy Land. It was also a disputed question whether the pope was seated in St. Peter's, or whether at the time of his death he had been in the city of Rome, but his prophetic utterances were shielded by a veil of mystery and Zerkow's, which were to be found in almost every household, their predictions, although their only weather predictions, so constant, they were rapidly coming true. The change of the moon was believed, however, to determine the weather. Another way of reading the future was to open the Bible at random on New Year's morning and the text on which your umbrella depended indicated your destiny in the coming year. Dreams were not much heeded, but presentments had importance, and very few people ventured in a dove thirteen to dinner, for fear of dying within the year, albeit reasoners were beginning to explain that one in thirteen was something like the ordinary rate of mortality. Nor would many have set out on a journey or transacted business of consequence on a Friday.—Westminster Review.

A CO-OPERATIVE COLONY.

An Example in the Settlement of Cosmo in Paraguay.

Comparatively few persons are aware of the existence in Paraguay of a little English-speaking colony named Cosmo, and of its attempt to organize a community on the highest co-operative lines. Beginning in 1894 as the result of a secession from the New Australia colony, the founders of Cosmo seem to have steered clear of the shoals and quicksands which wrecked the parent movement. One of the "fathers" of the colony, although he is quite a young man, is John Lane, who says of the colony: "We are running now on the lines on which New Australia started; we are communitistic in so far as we share our earnings equally, irrespective of the capacity of the individual. The present outlook is highly satisfactory, but we want more adult members. Our present population is sixteen women, all married, and twenty-six men; forty-two all told, exclusive of the children. We have 15,000 acres of land, half forest and half pasture, but only the forest land is good for cultivation. In the matter of finance our assets exceed our liabilities, and that is generally considered to be a sound position. We can easily raise our own food supply. Every family lives in its own house, and the bachelors have houses of their own, but take their meals at the co-operative dining-room, their cooking being done for them by colony labor. This co-operative commonwealth is governed by what is called a parliament, although it is only a committee of three, with a chairman or director of the colony. The ballot is taken by casting papers into a hat. Speaking of the industrial conditions in Cosmo, Mr. Lane said recently: "We have a forty-five hours' week, eight hours a day for five days and five hours on Saturday. Work starts just after sunrise and the men are employed in sugar-making and timber work. The married women are not on the organized working staff. They look after the homes, and any work they do outside is voluntary. Single women would be on the working staff."

The most popular X-mas present of the day is a graphophone, mandolin, guitar, etc. At cost at Howard C. Warden's, No. 112 S. 3d St.

CALLED MEETING.

Mayor Yeiser to Announce the Appointment of Committees.

Hit Police Appointments, Also, May Be Made Next Week Sometime.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser stated this morning that he will probably call a meeting of the council next week to announce the appointment of his standing committees, which he has not yet quite decided on.

He has about completed his list of police appointments, and will probably make them at the same time.

There can be no more regular meetings of the council this month, as both have already been held.

LOST MOTHER.

MARSHAL CROW RECEIVES A LETTER FROM TENNESSEE.

Marshal James Crow received a letter at noon today from Mrs. Emily Hendricks of East End, Tenn., inquiring the whereabouts of her mother and brother, Mrs. Mary Peffer and Horace Peffer, who left Evansville on a house boat en route to Paducah last May. She stated in the letter that the last she had heard of the couple they were near Mt. Vernon, Ind., and were bound for Paducah. The letter read that Mrs. Peffer was afflicted with paralysis, and was not able to walk, and the writer displayed some fear for her safety. Marshal Crow is investigating the case, and if he finds that the people are here, will write a reply to the letter.

The heavy ice in the river makes it nearly impossible for a small or large boat to run, and many shanty boats are daily ground to pieces in the big ice floes that form and float down the river. So far, nothing has been found relative to the whereabouts of the mother and son.
